

[illegible]

THE CITY.

See advertisement of Henry dress ball at the German House.

The situation of the ladies is invited to the advertisement of J. Koller in another column.

Public Meeting.—There will be a public meeting of the societies connected with the Chicago Theatrical Society, on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, at the Embassy Club. The place are invited to be present.

The Book Drawing.—Our readers will be in mind the Book Drawing and Supper given by the Sisters of Mercy on Monday evening at Metropolitan Hall, for the benefit of the poor. The work of the cause should secure a large attendance.

Travelling Lecturer.—Robert Dyer, Mayor, President of the Chicago Temperance League, will address the members of the Chicago League, on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, at the Embassy Club. The place are invited to be present.

Arrested.—Two men were arrested by the police of the South Division made another arrest among the men, on Friday night, and arrested the establishment of one Mrs. Cook, confining the male proprietress and five white females. The keeper was fined $10 and the remaining females $5 each.

Police Court.—The Police Court Saturday looked like some banquet hall deserted, with anything but the usual throng of round it. The docket was made up of a few old arrests for drunkenness, and an array of wretched women plucked from the precincts of Skidmore street.

Big Thomas Hatched.—The elegant wife of an old English physician, hatched to Oliver Wendell Holmes, M. D., author of "The Autocrat at the Breakfast Table," John Brown, M. D., author of "Rab and Ill-Fellows," recently published, is for sale at McNally & Co.'s, 511 Dearborn street.

A Valuable Invention.—The invention which will be received with delight by the housekeeper that at length, kerosene oil can be burned in a lamp without a chimney. This desirable invention has been effected by an invention of C. G. C. Hammond, of Chicago. His lamp, styled the "Hutchinson Kerosene Lamp," will speedily come into common use.

Dr. C. G. C. Hammond.—George Wilber, a member of Company A, McClintock Dragoons, Captain Barker, died at the hospital in Washington last week. In this connection we may state that relative of the doctor, who was furnished with all the information they had in relation to the burial place of his friend, by addressing J. N. Palmer, Government Undertaker, at No. 418 Seventh street, Washington.

Our Church Music Critic.—In another place will be found the first of our new critic in matters appertaining to religious music. He wishes it to be distinctly understood that he enters into the discussion of the religious music with the intention of the individualizing himself "Keep Cool," will know all to mind. We can promise our readers some criticism from him.

Annual Church Meeting.—The annual meeting of the First United Presbyterian congregation took place a few evenings since at the church, corner of Madison and Dearborn streets. The report of the retiring board of trustees showed the finances of the congregation to be in a satisfactory state, all bills having been settled, and the treasury showing a balance of $1,000.00.

The Great Snowstorm.—The annual meeting of the Young Men's Association, on Tuesday evening, met in Bryan Hall, subject, "Children in the Home." The speaker appeared before large audiences in many of the Eastern cities, and has been everywhere received with the highest appreciation. The lecture added to be in matter, his letters, witty, sensible and very much to the point, and in manner and style fully equal to the best of our most popular lecturers.

John Wilkes Booth.—Shakespeare's tragedy of Richard III will be presented at McVicker's Theatre this (Monday) evening, for the purpose of introducing to Chicago audience the young English actor who, above the third son of the older Booth, that he will receive a hearty welcome we cannot doubt, and should be pleased to see him as he is in the play, which is a masterpiece of dramatic art, and which will be quick to acknowledge it. For the short time he has been before the public he has received high praise, none critics excepting him in the matter of his acting.

The Ladies' Evening.—On Tuesday, Jan. 19, the ladies of the Soldiers Aid Society of Chicago, held a social gathering at the Protestant Episcopal Church on Michigan Avenue, between Broadway and Lake. The program was very attractive, and a good band is engaged for their special benefit. The funds will be appropriated by the ladies to the purchase of medicine for the sick, and for the use and comfort of the sick soldiers in the field. We hope to see all good attendance, and will guarantee that all who go, will get home with a good story, and have received the worth of their money besides having contributed relief to the suffering.

Dorchester Accident.—An accident of a very distressing nature took place Saturday, on West Lake street, and will not likely result in the death of a promising little boy, the son of Dr. C. G. Hammond, who was only four and a half years old, was driving a hand-drawn horse along the street, when opposite No. 135 West Lake street, approached a horse hitched to a cart, and was run over by the animal. The horse of the horse struck the boy on his head, and so great was the force of the blow, that he was carried a distance of six or eight feet. He was carried to the drug store of Dr. F. Bartels, where he was found conscious to sustain a portion of the injured bone. The child was not seriously injured, and there are indications that he will not recover.

The present age is pre-eminently distinguished for its improvements in the various appliances which are used in the home, and which are so blended with usefulness, and the elegance of design and ingenuity of invention have transformed the plain and commonplace articles for the comfort and convenience of domestic life into a perfect science. It is proved by experience that its ingenuity, comfort and economy of space are unsurpassed, while it enjoys great advantages in cleaning, softening and beautifying the skin. It is put up in boxes at 25 cents and 50 cents, by Smith & Dyer, Druggists and Chemists, opposite the Tremont House.

Strayed From a Charitable Institution.—A case of some interest was brought before Justice Davis at the Police Court on Saturday afternoon last. Two men, one by the name of Julius Fisher and Augustus Fisher, were brought up on complaint of L. J. Moody, Agent of the City of Chicago, under the special assignment of the Young Men's Christian Association—charged with the larceny of goods from the Society's depository on Madison street, between Broadway and Lake. The date of the act is fixed on Thursday, the 14th inst. It appears that Mr. Moody, having a number of several tons of coal, hired the Fishers to transport them to the Black Island freight depot to the Society's yard. From certain circumstances, the suspicion of the Agent was aroused and he thought proper to question the men, who were then in the yard, and who were being loaded with coal, and realized that the drivers did not intend to go, and in fact did not drive the coal to the depot. The complaint was made by the Agent, and the men were charged with the larceny of the coal.

THE THIRTIETH WISCONSIN REGIMENT.

OFF FOR FORT LEAVENWORTH.

ORGANIZATION OF THE REGIMENT.

Other Regiments to Follow.

The Thirtieth Wisconsin Regiment, Col. Maurice Mahoney the efficient commanding, went into temporary quarters at Camp Troward, in the vicinity of Janesville, the latter part of October last, and on Christmas day they received an appointment from the Government, in the shape of their arms, ammunition and accoutrements. The regiment has spent about three months in camp under the leadership of competent drillmasters, and from the manner in which they executed the few maneuvers they were called upon to perform in contrast with the work of the other regiments, they have made a good use of the time, and improved rapidly in the manual of the soldier.

The departure. On Saturday last, at 10 o'clock A. M., the tents were struck and Camp Troward, and the regiment started out for a rapid journey to Fort Leavenworth. The regiment left Janesville in the best of spirits and escorted by the ladies and other citizens of the place, who turned out almost on parade to see the gallant regiment fairly upon its way for the scene of battle. The command filed past the first-class passenger coaches of the Northwestern Railway. Driven by two first-class engines, the train started for the west, and the regiment, the Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

In the city. The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

The passage from the Northwestern Depot to Lake of the Great Central, at the foot of Lake street, was an occasion of which any regiment might well be proud. The streets were crowded with people, a majority perhaps of ladies, and groups of admirers were collecting to see the Thirtieth, from whom cheers of welcome were heartily forth.

The depot. At the depot, the commissioned officers in uniform of the Northwestern Railway, separated from their command and adjourned to the spacious dining hall of the Sherman House, where, at about five o'clock, they were met by the other regiments of the Northwestern Railway, who were also on their way to Fort Leavenworth. The Thirtieth made the run to this city in good time, arriving here at three P. M.

THE MURRAY NUMBER GAME.

The Prisoner Found guilty of Murder.

MONETARY.

THE MURRAY NUMBER GAME.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

The jury, in the case of Peter Murray charged with the murder of John O'Dell, having heard all the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that he be sentenced to the State Prison for life.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONETARY.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONETARY.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

The week closes on a quiet money market. During the early part of the week the banks did not have much to do, but towards the end of the week they were more active, and the market was more lively.

CHICAGO DAILY MARKET.

CHICAGO DAILY MARKET.

CHICAGO DAILY MARKET.

CHICAGO DAILY MARKET.

WHEAT.—Chicago, Jan. 20, 1920. The market for wheat was quiet today, with prices steady. The demand for wheat was not very strong, and the supply was ample.

WHEAT.—Chicago, Jan. 20, 1920. The market for wheat was quiet today, with prices steady. The demand for wheat was not very strong, and the supply was ample.

WHEAT.—Chicago, Jan. 20, 1920. The market for wheat was quiet today, with prices steady. The demand for wheat was not very strong, and the supply was ample.

WHEAT.—Chicago, Jan. 20, 1920. The market for wheat was quiet today, with prices steady. The demand for wheat was not very strong, and the supply was ample.

WHEAT.—Chicago, Jan. 20, 1920. The market for wheat was quiet today, with prices steady. The demand for wheat was not very strong, and the supply was ample.

WHEAT.—Chicago, Jan. 20, 1920. The market for wheat was quiet today, with prices steady. The demand for wheat was not very strong, and the supply was ample.

WHEAT.—Chicago, Jan. 20, 1920. The market for wheat was quiet today, with prices steady. The demand for wheat was not very strong, and the supply was ample.

WHEAT.—Chicago, Jan. 20, 1920. The market for wheat was quiet today, with prices steady. The demand for wheat was not very strong, and the supply was ample.

WHEAT.—Chicago, Jan. 20, 1920. The market for wheat was quiet today, with prices steady. The demand for wheat was not very strong, and the supply was ample.

WHEAT.—Chicago, Jan. 20, 1920. The market for wheat was quiet today, with prices steady. The demand for wheat was not very strong, and the supply was ample.

WHEAT.—Chicago, Jan. 20, 1920. The market for wheat was quiet today, with prices steady. The demand for wheat was not very strong, and the supply was ample.

WHEAT.—Chicago, Jan. 20, 1920. The market for wheat was quiet today, with prices steady. The demand for wheat was not very strong, and the supply was ample.

WHEAT.—Chicago, Jan. 20, 1920. The market for wheat was quiet today, with prices steady. The demand for wheat was not very strong, and the supply was ample.

WHEAT.—Chicago, Jan. 20, 1920. The market for wheat was quiet today, with prices steady. The demand for wheat was not